

Maureen Meredith, KYB Studies Director

I was brought up in a non-Christian home but was encouraged always to attend Sunday School. When I look back I realise I had a very Godly Sunday School teacher, who taught us the scripture, we had to learn verses every week.

At the age of 15, I made a decision to become a Christian. My life was transformed as within one week I could no longer use swear words which were a second language to me. This had a profound effect on the rest of my family, they described it as me going 'all religious' but I had met the Saviour who alone can change lives.

I got involved with KYB when my first child was small. I met with other mums to do a Bible study with the children all playing around us. I then joined a local team organising events and day conferences in our area. I became part of the Scottish Regional Board and went on to join the National Leadership Team.

Know Your Bible has enriched my life, encouraged my journey of faith and deepened my walk with God. I count it an immense privilege to be part of this ministry and to serve the Lord with other Godly Women.
